SYNOPSIS:

On November 20, 2009, around 1:52 am, Deputies from the Lemon Grove Station responded to a call of a stabbing at an apartment complex in unincorporated La Mesa. As reported by the parties involved, after a night of drinking, the male victim and the female suspect got into an argument. The male pushed his girlfriend a couple times. The female went downstairs and retrieved two large knives from the kitchen. The female went back upstairs and stabbed the male in the neck one time. The incident was heard by three children in the residence, ages 6, 10 and 13. The victim was transported to Sharp Memorial Hospital with non-life threatening injuries for treatment. The female was taken to the Las Colinas Detention Facility where she was booked on felony charges.
